

Technology

1960-1969

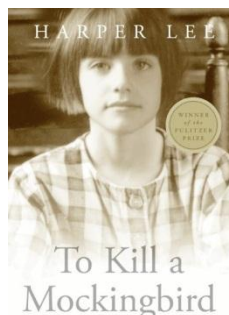

- Eight Track Tape
- Microwave Oven
- Birth of the Internet--The Internet began as a Cold War project to create a communications network that was immune to a nuclear attack.
- Video disk
- Handheld calculators
- Astroturf
- ATM
- Computer mouse
- Bar-code scanner
- Halogen lamp
- Child safety seat
- Snowboarding
- Cordless phone
- Racquetball

Entertainment

1960-1969

- New Hollywood” era that dabbled in the risqué, such as sexually explicit films and the developing drug culture. Examples of such films include Easy Rider and Barbarella.
- The Sound of Music, Cool Hand Luke, Breakfast at Tiffany’s, Butch Cassidy and the Sundance Kid, Pink Panther, Psycho, 2001: A Space Odyssey, Midnight Cowboy, Lawrence of Arabia and Spartacus.
- Some of the popular family shows were The Ed Sullivan Show, The Flintstones, Bonanza, and The Wonderful World of Disney.
- The Beatles, The Rolling Stones, The Animals, The Yardbirds, Manfred Mann, and Herman’s Hermits, Bob Dylan were popular music groups
- Folk rock--The Doors, The Byrds, and The Grateful Dead are a few examples of such groups. The Beach Boys are the most popular group to emerge from surf rock, which was born on the west coast.
- The Peanuts comic strip
- Nerf toys
- Three Olympic Games were held during the sixties
- Bowling
- Dancing

Fashion

1960-1969

Women

- pillbox hats, pastel suits with short boxy jackets and oversized buttons, and simple geometric dresses or shifts
- Capri trousers were the main choice for women and girls casual wear
- stiletto heels
- for formal attire, full-skirted gowns were worn with low necklines and close-fitting waists
- mini-skirts and the mini-dress with an A-line shape or sleeveless shift
- Both men and women wore frayed bell-bottomed jeans, tie-dyed shirts, work shirts, and headbands and sandals
- Big hair with a bob

Men

- suits were bright and colorful as opposed to the pale, toned shades of the previous decade
- frills and cravats
- wide ties with crazy prints, stripes and patterns, trouser straps,
- leather boots and collarless jackets
- double-breasted suits of crushed velvet or striped patterns
- brocade waistcoats, shirts with frilled collars
- hair worn below the collarbone and a dandified look.
- Both men and women wore frayed bell-bottomed jeans, tie-dyed shirts, work shirts, and headbands and sandals
- The Beatles shag

